Fulfillment In Your Career (1)

- Where do you see yourself in 10 years’ time?
  - Don’t think in terms of your job
  - Your career isn’t what you do, but who you are
  - Humility isn’t about holding yourself in low esteem, but holding others in high esteem

- What do you do in your spare time?
  - Markets vs. corporations
  - Passion for selling
  - Tribalism

2. Prof. Clayton Christensen (“How Will You Measure Your Life?”), paraphrased
Fulfillment In Your Career (2)

- What are your values?
  - Write a personal mission statement\(^1\)
  - Values are not goals; they are about the “breadth, length, height, and depth”\(^2\)
  - The secret to a happy life – find out what you like to do, and then find someone who will pay you to do it\(^3\)

Fulfillment In Your Life (2)

- Take rest breaks
  - Busyness is a boast disguised as a complaint\(^1\)

- Practice the discipline of contentment
  - Between stimulus and response is our greatest power - the freedom to choose\(^2\)
  - Remember the excitement of pre-term
  - Society trains us to be perpetually discontent
  - Abundance mentality vs. scarcity mentality\(^2\)
  - Gratitude list
  - Centering your life around values, rather than goals, helps you to be content

Fulfillment In Your Life (3)

- Stay physically fit
  - Most important and least urgent

- Live life to the full without fear of failure
  - It is impossible to live without failing at something, unless you live so cautiously that you might as well not have lived at all – in which case, you fail by default\(^1\)
  - Many things you pursue most passionately, you get nothing tangible out of

1. JK Rowling (Harvard commencement speech)
Fulfillment In Your Life (4)

- Be fully committed to everything you do
  - Excellence is a form of worship
  - Many things you do are not unique
